LOCAL JOTTINGS

TO OUR READERS

Owing to the non-arrival of our supply of news print (it being held up somewhere on the line owing to the heavy storms) we were unable to put out an issue of the Standard last week.

We apologize for the non-appearance of the paper, but we have no control over the weather.

Gerald Anderson left on Wednesday evening for Toronto, where he will undergo tests for the Royal Flying Corps.

Miss Wilson, one time of the Strathmore Public School staff, was visiting Mr and Mrs S. M. Walker for a few days last week.

Miss Thorburn, of the firm of Gateley & Fisher, spent Christmas with friends in Calgary.

Our citizens are now going around with a happy smile on their faces, for the spell of mild weather we are now enjoying means a saving in the coal piles and the merchants are also looking happy for they have a feeling that business will again become brisk.

The local orchestra journeyed to Namao on Wednesday to play for a dance in the I.O.O.F.

Quite a number of our citizens went out of town for the holidays but as our Society Editor was attending a convention of the I.S.A. (International Spiritual Association) we have not been able to get the names of those who went away or came into the burg.

Mr Winspear, of Namao, conducted the service in the Anglican Church on Sunday evening.

Owing to having been called up under the Military Service Act, the proprietor of K. and K. Shop is putting on a big clearing out sale. Men, here is your chance to stock up at the right prices. Everything has to go and bargain prices are the order of the day.

Killed After Serving Colors for Three Years

Sergeant K. D. McLean, killed in action November 11, was a member of the original 10th Battalion and had served the colors three years. He was wounded in the arm at Ypres in 1915, and after being discharged from one of the military hospitals was employed as a muckety instructor in the 10th Battalion. He later promoted to sergeant. He later received a commission of private in order to get back into the front and won the military medal and further promotion to acting sergeant-major. He had promised three months' furlough just before he was killed. Sgt. McLean was a nephew of Mr. Donald McLean, 1473 12th avenue west.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Albera Farm Loan Act

War conditions and unforeseen developments incident thereto have prompted the Provincial Government to make a statement of the situation with respect to the operation of the Farm Loan Act.

The Act was passed April last and this matter of bringing it into operation has been constantly before the Government. It will be recalled that at that time the United States had not entered the war and that the American market was then open to the world for borrowing purposes. As soon, however, as the United States joined the Allies, the markets were closed to the outside borrowers with the result that our source of supply—one from which in previous years a substantial portion of our borrowing had been received—was cut off. There remained only the Canadian market and it is hardly necessary to add that the large requirements of the Dominion Government for war purposes preclude our borrowing in that quarter at a rate low enough to make the plan a success.

The operation of the Farm Loan Act involves the borrowing and re-lending of money with a percentage added to cover the administrative charges, and it will be recalled that to insure effective control a commercial supply of money at a reasonable rate of interest is essential. The Government has theretofore determined that in the interests of the farmers themselves, the present is not an opportune time to commence the loaning of money under the Farm Loan Act, and it has been decided to postpone its operation until conditions become more normal.

Santa Claus Gets Assistance at Union S.S.

In place of the old time Christmas tree entertainment, the children of the Union S.S. were asked to assist Mr Santa Claus by bringing some toys that he might take them to the Slav and Italian children of the miners at Frank. They responded splendidly on Thursday afternoon preceding Christmas. In the midst of the givers Mrs Santa suddenly made her appearance, saying that as her husband had heard that they were ready to help him and wanted to come in person to receive the gifts, but being very busy he had sent her, and she was very pleased to take charge of all the nice things that had brought and would see that they got to the proper children. She then made the announcement that Santa had sent boxes of candy for all the children and wished them all a Merry Christmas. We regard this as teaching the true spirit of Xmas cheer, and also a splendid lesson in Canadian citizenship.

There will be an auction sale held at the Strathmore Auction Mart on Saturday, January 26th. Several good entries have been secured.

The Latest Air Peril of Huns

Canadian War Aviator Tells of Germans' Latest Anti-aircraft Warfare

The blazing "enigma" is described by Major W. A. Bishop of the Royal Flying Corps as the most disconcerting anti-aircraft warfare ever seen. He was able to send against the allied airmen. The first news of this new form of warfare came from New York by the young Canadian, just back from the front, who was in the grip of the Canadian club.

He described "the blazing enigma" as follows: "It is a series of eight balls, which are shot up, revolving about an axis to which they are held by a wire. They revolve when reaching the altitude of the fighters over the Hun lines."

"A Hun pilot comes up," he said, "with about 'the speed of a man walking.' He comes up, he said, with 'about the damage it does to the Hun lines.' He is not afraid of the things. It swings in a radius about twenty feet, and it is almost impossible to get away from it. It is something to get well away from it, as it is one of the blazing balls hit me, which the damage is almost unpredictable."

Major Bishop went to the front as a private. He came back in April as a captain. He has the Victoria Cross, the War Cross and the Distinguished Service Order. He has been flying since having engaged in 110 fights in five months. He brought with him six airplanes and two observation balloons. Out of 150,000 men he is the only one of Over-Sound, Ont., and is so good that he does not look to be even 23.

Major Bishop was with the air force that always held force with the allied aviators was that when one of them went to his aid, all others must go to his aid.

Knowing of this rule of ours," he said, "I took one of our captured machines and had my machine engaged in a mock battle. It simulated the actual situation, thus trying to beat them to the finish. Sometimes they succeeded and then—well we didn't mind the six or seven hits we got. We got over 200,000,000 pounds in the first March last."

It happens that the additional supplies can be found easily in the Western Provinces. That fact is the reason, therefore, that the situation at suggesting a sound reason for lower prices has been produced in the expenditure of public money for transportation facilities and other means which naturally produced greater consumption of material.

Major Bishop is a private, but he ckie was having most of the air ritory. He was in the air for 100 hours

Beef Supplies and Prices

Need for Better Organization in the Interests of Both Producer and Consumer

A bulletin of the department of food and commerce contains a statement of fact, which from the first point of view is good, for it sends some measure of comfort to the heavily-burdened consumers of the West. The figures for 1914 were told that the supply of cattle was diminishing. Computation of the supply was based on the fact that the supply was the defense for a particular advance in prices. It was the opinion of the department that situation was made the defense for a particular advance in prices. It was the opinion of the department that the supply was increasing, whether because of greater production or low prices.

Between 1912 and 1914 the number of cattle in the West increased from 6,312,861 to 6,862,817. This was a loss of 550,000 cattle. The number of cattle seems to have turned to next year, as the number went up to 7,000,000. In 1916 the number was substantial and the total stood at 7,500,000 cattle. The increase of 500,000 cattle per cent. is the supply, coincident with this growth of 500,000 cattle per cent.

Between the export trade has increased enormously in the meantime, and our shipments of beef abroad have increased from 1912 to 1916 by over 57,000,000 pounds in the 1916 fiscal year to well over 100,000,000 pounds in the same year. The total export of meat and other meats, which naturally produced greater consumption of material, has increased from 145,000,000 to 202,000,000 pounds in the fiscal year March last.

It happens that the additional supplies can be found easily in the Western Provinces. That fact is the reason, therefore, that the situation at suggesting a sound reason for lower prices has been produced in the expenditure of public money for transportation facilities and other means which naturally

produced greater consumption of

material.

Two Interesting Addresses

On Sunday evening last, instead of the regular sermon in the Methodist Church, two vigorous addresses were delivered by Messrs Zerkle and Green, the Superintendent and Bible Class Teacher respectively of the Union Sunday School. The former spoke on "The Relation of the S.S. to the Home in Child Culture," and Mr Green's subject was, "The Bible in Modern Life." These addresses are indicative of the great fact, that religion during the past three years has come much nearer to everyday life and fills a much larger space in the thinking of intelligent laymen.

We hope that we might soon have a further chance of hearing more of our laymen speaking from the pulpit.

Halifax Relief Fund Concert

A grand concert was given in the Opera House on Friday evening, in aid of the Halifax Relief Fund. Considering the stormy and cold weather of the past few days, there was a good crowd out, and they thoroughly enjoyed the excellent programme Mr W. E. Brown, who is always ready to lend his aid to any worthy object, had kindly consented to act as chairman, and he carried out his duties in his usual efficient manner. The artists who had given their services for the evening were: Mesdames Green, McVittie and Vicars, Miss H. McElhees and Messrs Richards and Gentry. Owing to the late arrival of the train Miss Bolton, who had been engaged as accompanist, was unavoidably absent, but Mrs McVittie kindly came to the rescue and did the best she could. After the programme the audience had a dance, Miss Bolton providing the music, while G. Frank Butler acted as M. C. Great credit is due the promoters of the concert, Mr W. E. Brown, Mr Richards and H. Vicars, for their untiring work and efforts in behalf of so worthy a cause, and a word of thanks is due the performers also to the musicians for their support, for a large number bought tickets, although they did not come to the concert.
